

theguardian
HAY FESTIVAL
21-31 May 2009

WHY DOES THEOLOGY MATTER?

come to the guardian HAY FESTIVAL to find out

Thursday 28th May from 10am

events include

Presentation of the £15,000 MICHAEL RAMSEY PRIZE for theological writing with special guest Archbishop DESMOND TUTU

A.N. WILSON in conversation with Archbishop ROWAN WILLIAMS

Madeleine Bunting of the guardian: panel discussion with the shortlisted authors

TO BOOK go to www.hayfestival.co.uk from 10th April or call the Guardian Hay Festival box office on 0870 990 1299

SHORTLISTED Titles

Jesus and the Eyewitnesses, Richard Bauckham (Eerdmans)

God & Grace of Body, David Brown (OUP)

Imitating Jesus, Richard Burridge (Eerdmans)

The Contagion of Jesus, Sebastian Moore (Darton, Longman and Todd)

The Hermeneutics of Doctrine, Anthony Thiselton (Eerdmans)

JUDGES

Archbishop of Canterbury, Dr Rowan Williams

Jane Williams, theologian and wife of Rowan Williams

AN Wilson, writer and commentator

Elaine Storkey, lecturer, writer and broadcaster

Timothy Radcliffe, ex-master of the Dominican friars, winner of the 2007 Prize

Paula Gooder, New Testament lecturer and writer

Alison Fulford, working mother and priest, who won our book review-writing competition

SUPPORT THIS EVENT and help us show the world that THEOLOGY MATTERS

The Michael Ramsey Prize aims to encourage the most promising contemporary theological writing and identify it for a wider Christian readership.
see www.michaelramseyprize.org.uk

The prize is sponsored by the Lambeth Fund and administered by SPCK